Details of proposed session

The session on innovations, entrepreneurship and cyber security issues for business will focus on business organisations and their challenges. This session will have special papers on these themes which will enable the researchers to address these issues. There are plenty of opportunities for entrepreneurs to address the issues relating to cyber security. There are also challenges for small and medium entrepreneurs to prepare robust infrastructure to ensure cyber security. There are also the challenges of maintaining innovative capabilities of the organisations. All these issues will be taken up during the session.
